

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((* urban life is better than rural life*)) •

.Some people agree and support it. While others disagree and refuse it

I can say that I agree on that topic for Some reasons that I will write down. First of all from my point of view is Cultural Hub Large cities are often cultural hubs for their entire state or .region

The second is More Job Opportunities: There are generally more job opportunities — especially well-paying ones — available in big cities. Additionally, the job market is expected to grow more quickly in urban areas especially large cities

Finally, good education While the quality of schools will differ from place to place, better schools and universities and higher quality education in urban areas and more facilities, parks, entertainment and shopping centers available everywhere at urban areas

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I agree on it. That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((* spending the holiday in Oman is better than travelling abroad*))

.Some people agree and support it. While others disagree and refuse it

I can say that I agree on that topic for Some reasons that I will write down. First of all from my point of view is One of the most important reasons to spend your vacation in Oman is .the kindness of the people of Oman and their hospitality to the neighbor and the stranger

The Second is to explore the tourist places in Oman and activate internal tourism and learn .about new and exotic places all over Oman

The Third is to save time, money and effort as you will spend Less money compared to traveling abroad, so you will not need to book airline tickets or hotels, and in the end, Oman is a beautiful tourist destination where you can enjoy your time and practice .exciting activities and adventures

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I agree on it. .That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((* Learning a foreign language abroad is easier and cheaper than at your home country*))

.Some people agree and support it. While others disagree and refuse it

Practice makes perfect, and, when you live abroad, there's no way you can avoid putting .all your new language skills into practice every, single, day

The second is you'll make a bunch of new friends

Because nothing quite says "friends for life" like finding other people who have just moved miles away from home and also need new buddies to hang with

The third is It's all about the "life experience

You're not just learning a language, you're learning how to survive in an entirely new culture. Wherever you go

Finally, It's an opportunity to pick up new hobbies

Pick a study abroad destination that offers a different environment from your hometown

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I don't agree on it. That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((* Online shopping is always a perfect thing))

I can say that I don't agree on that topic for Some reasons that I will write down. First of all from my point of view is You don't know exactly what you're getting. Products that looked great might feel chintzy, awkward, or cheap when you hold them in your hands

The second is Risk of fraud. If you're shopping online, there's a larger risk of fraud: credit card scams, phishing, hacking, identity theft

The third is Shipping problems and delays, Items get lost, detoured, damaged, or delivered to the wrong address more often than you can imagine

Finally, Unfriendly, scammy, or complicated websites. Some sites require that you join their mailing list and make it impossible to unsubscribe. Some sell your email address to others, so your email is full of ads

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I don't agree on it. That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((* home cooked food is healthier than restaurant food))

and more economic than Eating restaurants, where you are at home, you can eat the quantity you want and that fills your hunger without paying extra amounts

Finally home food is much healthier than restaurant food in your home we can use more or less fats or spices and you can control guarantee that anything you cook at home will be .healthier than fast food

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I agree on it. .That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about((shopping in souqs is more interesting than shopping in modern malls))

.Some people agree and support it. While others disagree and refuse it

I can say that I don't agree on that topic for Some reasons that I will write down. First of all from my point of view is there are many coffee bars and restaurants in the same place in .grand malls So you can eat and drink when you feel hungry at any time

The second is shopping in malls is interesting and easier than souqs. Grand malls offer different brand names for different products such as garments, electronics, cosmetics, .perfume and many other things

Finally, shopping in malls is easy and quick. Customers can find everything under one roof. The products are organised in private areas, so everything can be found in a very short .time

To conclude, I think that grand malls are the most exciting and the easiest place for .shopping with various types of commodities

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I don't agree .on it. That is my own opinion and I respect others opinions

.people are always different in their opinions

.sometimes they agree and sometimes they disagree

but for me I agree that online shopping is the best for me

.for many reasons

first of all is

.people can shopping online and compare dozens of stores and products at once

Next Wider Selection in online shopping

.buyers turn to the Internet to find a wide selection

Then,better prices

many shoppers exactly knew what they want and then search online for better pricing
.easily

Finally saving time

As a result, “saving time” is often cited above “finding the lowest price” as a reason for shopping online

All in all,I can say that in my opinion I am agree that sopping online is the best
..because its save time and money and keep us save from viruses like coved 19

.people are always different in their opinions

.sometimes they are agree and sometimes they are disagree

but for me I am agree that both women and men spend money as their situations differently

.for many reasons

first of all is

Attitudes toward shopping

women are more likely to view shopping,while most men just want to make their .purchase and get out

Next Spending habits

.Food: Single men spent more money to bring ready and fast food more than women

Clothing men and women spend the same amount on shoes and clothes but women spend
.more to buy makeup ,perfumes,jewelry and accessories

Cars: Men outdrove women in this category

.Healthcare: Women tend to spend slightly more across all healthcare categories

.Personal care: Ladies vastly outspent men on personal care products and services

.Finally and all in all in my opinion I see both men and women spend money differently

.people are always different in their opinions

.sometimes they are agree and sometimes they are disagree

for me

first of all is argued that shopping in malls are better than shopping in markets. I strongly agree with this statement and I think that shopping in grand shops has many advantages

First, there are many coffee bars and restaurants. In other words, customers can sit and relax in different cafeterias and coffee shops. In addition, their children can play there in special entertaining areas which are equipped with various of plays and computer games

Second, grand malls have plenty of large customer parking where consumers can park their cars easily. The parks are also marked with numbers , so everybody can find his car without any effort

Third, shopping in malls is interesting. Grand malls offer different brand names for different products such as garments, electronics, cosmetics, perfume and many other things

Finally, shopping in malls is easy and quick. Customers can find everything under one roof. The products are organised in private areas, so everything can be found in a very short time

Once, at a big restaurant in Oman, my friend and I had the bad luck and the worst " experience we ever had at restaurant

First,we ordered scallop and it arrived in time. One bite and we knew the scallops were bad. They had the ammonia taste that everyone recognizes. We quietly told the server who was horrified and fell all over himself apologizing. Even he recognized that ammonia meant bad. He took it away and we ordered something else. A few minutes later the manager came over," and said

If that wasn't bad enough, the restaurant's response to Spofford's complaint made matters even worse

We expected another apology, but no, she argued with me over whether they were " actually bad. She informed me that I just didn't know what scallops tasted like, they had a strong taste that I just didn't like. I told her that I'd been eating scallops for over 5 years ",and she was risking the health of anyone who ordered them and she just walked away

From that time

.We didn't go to any restaurant ever never

Today, I will talk about my favorite restaurant that I visited one day and left an impression of calm and quietness as well as the quality of the food and it's tasty taste

Italian cuisine is one of the most famous kitchens around the world and is one of the most luxurious and characteristic cuisines in the world. It is the origin of pasta and pizza that is unparalleled anywhere else

The Italian restaurant is undoubtedly one of the most outstanding and magnificent food establishments in my city. Characterized by the quiet atmosphere, its light-colored interior and its elegant, glamorous decor, it was once a cafe before turning into a restaurant with many qualities of the former

The restaurant offers delicious dining options, with Italian authentic flavor. Waiters in the restaurant are friendly and respectful

This place is no less than a typical example of how to build a restaurant

.The restaurant serves many famous Italian meals

The chicken soup with cream is a great start to any meal, and I have not found a restaurant serving it as here. I prefer the Chicken Caesar Salad after it

My favorite dishes are the fettuccine Alfredo pasta with chicken, grilled chicken with cream and mushroom sauce. I love pizza of all kinds. They are all delicious and different options. Parmesan cheese is a good choice to accompany any Italian dish

Canoloni Agnolotti with garlic and rosemary is one of the best Italian dishes. Agnolotti is a stuffed pasta and is very similar to ravioli, served with some rosemary and garlic. This dish is one of the distinctive foods in Italian cuisine

Rap Arancini broccoli with marinara sauce is one of the best Italian dishes. It is rice balls with well fried broccoli and characterized by its golden color and served with marinara sauce

The restaurant also offers different types of juices with meals. Such as lemon juice with mint mixed with crushed ice is an effective recipe for extinguishing the heat of the atmosphere

The restaurant at the weekend is busy ... my advice is to arrive early or book or call for booking to ensure a place

.The restaurant is rated 4 stars and its prices are high

.In order to shine during the interview. Careful preparation beforehand is essential

First I must be prepared in advance for the questions to be asked

I have to do a thorough research of the people I will be interviewing and try to get a list of the people I will meet. Then search for these individuals, and the goal is to get to know the backgrounds and interests of the interlocutors so that it is easier to establish a relationship. Show interest in them second It is important to think early on about the questions that may be asked so that I .can prepare a clear answer. I don't want to be surprised by the tough questions

?Can you tell me about yourself

?What do you consider to be your greatest strength

?What do you think of your weaknesses

?Where do you see yourself after 5 years

.I must be dressed appropriately for the interview

I have to make sure I get to the interview on time (I don't want someone to take on the .first impression of me not arriving on time)

I must bring copies of my certificates

And from my resume

After conducting the interview, I must give them all the information and how to contact me

There are a large number of practical steps I can take to prepare myself for any interview. By following the many pre-preparations it would make me more ready and .more confident to meet. How I wish good luck to me

?Do you want to be a journalist? Do you have what it takes

In addition to good writing skills, there are many other qualities you need to be a good journalist

.First, integrity. To be successful, a good journalist must have the trust of their audience

Second, courage

.A good journalist must also be brave and daring

.Third, it is important for a journalist to possess technical skills

Fourth, journalists are expected to use social media as a tool for real-time reporting and .to provide transparent coverage of an ongoing event

.Fifth, strong communication skills are a must for a journalist

.These skills are used regularly to interview sources and write stories and reports

A good journalist should also have an analytical mind that allows him to build stories on .facts rather than emotion

A journalist must hone these skills to accurately report news and validate all information .they find

,If you have all these skills

You are a good journalist

Being a good student doesn't just mean achieving high scores on tests. It means having

.a love of learning,a passion for knowledge,a hunger to develop and grow academically

.So what are the traits and habits that shape a good student

A growth mindset is a deeply held belief that a person can learn anything given enough .time and effort

,A good student is brave

.Brave students are going to be the ones who take risks and amass experiences

,A good student is organized

A high school student can study as many as nine different subjects with nine different teachers and nine different sets of expectations

A good student is consistent and persistent

Learning happens slowly and consistently. Take for example the process we went through when we learned to read

A good student is able to deal with failure

Failure is one of the greatest tools in the learning process

A good student sets goals

Goal setting focuses a student's attention towards certain behaviours and information and away from distractions

A good student values education. Finally, if the student is to achieve success in education, they need to value education. In life, we very rarely persist or strive in an endeavour if we don't think it is valuable

I am going to give my opinion about a very important topic this topic is about (its always important to do things on time)

I can say that I agree on that topic for some reasons that I will write down. First of all from my point of view is if you're not on time you will waste your time. When you're late, you're not buying yourself a few "extra minutes" you're throwing away those minutes on things that could have been accounted for with a little planning

The second is if you are not on time you will waste money

The third is if you are not on time you will weaken your position when you're late, you're starting off on the wrong foot

Finally, late can lead to some costly mistakes

So for all the reasons I wrote above I can sum up my opinion as I said before I agree on it. That is my own opinion and I respect others' opinions
